Ardijah

Jump on the Midnight Train To Georgia this spring with Ardijah, Beau Monga, Lomez Brown and Nofo Lameko!

Performing live in Rotorua, Auckland, Wellington, Palmerston North & Napier.

Thru the years, Ardijah's sound was that of Funk, Rock, Reggae & R&B. To become unique and different from the rest, Ardijah had to create their own sound, what developed was a blend of their Polynesian Roots with those funky foundations creating a style of their own they call 'PolyFonk'

The Gee Bee's \(Bee Gee's Tribute Band\)

The Gee Bees.

Over the last decade the Gee Bees have performed at a variety of events – charity functions raising funds for organisations such as Starship Hospital Radio Lollipop, Coastguard North Shore, Red Cross and also, of course, performing at private and corporate events. The 'lads' have always been rapturously received (especially by the ladies!) with fans from eight to eighty (yes, really!) dancing in the aisles to those magical Bee Gee rhythms.

Between them the three lads have a wealth of experience.

Tony has been performing in musical theatre for nearly 30 years with over 2000 stage appearances to his credit. John was part of the well known Kiwi band 'Gandalf' in the 70s and has since performed many singing roles with the North Shore Music Theatre. Paul has played amateur acting roles in UK theatre and has since 'MC'd' a number of variety shows here in New Zealand.

Fight or Flight

This exhibition combines the work of Nicola Wright and Rebecca Moore. The theme of 'flight or fight' links the works of both artists.

Wright works in Oamaru stone to create sculptures with movement and energy focusing on native birds. There is harmony implied by the flowing curved forms of Wright's birds. The stone both anchors and frees the birds and in doing so acts to accentuate their fragility and beauty. Moore's oil paintings and drawings which delve into the struggle between calm and tension, the impasse between flight and fight, complements Wright's work. Moore, instead of using birds, uses figures which seem trapped in moments of calm and indecision.

An exhibition of Oamaru stone work along with oil paintings enables the exhibition to tap into a wider audience. The links between the works, as well as the artists handling of media to convey the concept of 'flight or fight', invites conversation and discussion.

Podium Rotorua Half Marathon

Rotorua becomes New Zealand's running mecca in late November for the ultimate half marathon run and walk. New experiences, new sights and new sounds are around every corner of this stunning half marathon course.

Vehicles take second places as over 1,000 runners and walkers charge down Rotorua's primary highway, Fenton Street and blow through one of the busiest vehicle intersections in provincial NZ.

From there its golf courses, forest trails, geothermal wonders and lakeside boardwalk... this is the course that has it all.

However, this isn't just an event for those looking for big distance. The Brooks 10K Classic features one of the flattest and fastest courses you will find anywhere in New Zealand - and still manages to pack in the best of the geothermal and historic highlights of the city.

If you're looking for a 10K PB, it's here waiting for you. And just to make sure no one in the family misses out, the 4K Community fun run and walk and 2K kids dash round off a fab day of running and walking in NZ's premier tourist town.
